I apologize, I've been so busy on the site that I forgot to introduce myself. Hi, my name is Steve. I'm the one behind Hot Rod Time. I say one because for now there is only one of me (until they get that cloning thing down to more than just sheep, then I'll take a dozen). I'm a self professed gearhead. I love anything with an engine. I eat, sleep and breath tire smoke, oil, chrome, nitro and horsepower. I look forward to creating a community where horsepower junkies like myself can meet new friends and re-unite with old one. If there is anything I can help you with, please let me know. Thanks - Steve
